1.1 Follow-up & Intervention Tracker

- Girwa Lucky Time: Absent Monday & Tuesday – network issues in rural area; contacted via phone – confirmed back on Wednesday.
- Manzi Igor: Absent Wednesday – family emergency; material shared via Google Classroom.
- Ishimwe Jean Felis: Absent Saturday – prior commitment; individual catch-up session scheduled for Monday.

2 Session Summaries & Topics Covered (Mon–Sat)

Day	Topics / Activities
Monday	Creation of WhatsApp group and Google Classroom; introduction to Equity College Counselling Program.
Tuesday	Scholar profile creation (high school combination, intended university course, academic strengths).
Wednesday	Gmail setup (full name for applications), Khan Academy account creation, SAT baseline overview.
Thursday	Presentation: “Balancing College Applications with Internship and Test Preparation”; Q&A on time management.
Friday	Guest mentor session (Stanford admittee) – motivational talk; CollegeBoard account walkthrough.
Saturday	SAT Diagnostic Test via Khan Academy (full-length, proctored virtually).

3 Scholar Engagement Analysis & Academic Progress

Overall Engagement Rating: High (84% average attendance across the week)

- Active participation: 10/12 scholars consistently contributed during interactive sessions, asked questions regarding SAT structure and essay expectations.
- Special note: Three scholars (Divine, Obed, Naome) demonstrated exceptional enthusiasm – completed extra Khan Academy drills.
- Underperforming engagement: Girwa Lucky Time and Manzi Igor showed sporadic connectivity issues, but have committed to offline catch-up.
- Scholar Profile completion: All 12 profiles initiated; 9 fully updated with academic records and target universities.

4 Challenges Encountered

1. Connectivity instability: Two scholars (Girwa, Manzi) experience frequent internet drops in Nyamasheke & Kicukiro districts.
2. Late device acquisition: 3 scholars obtained laptops on Saturday, missing earlier virtual sessions.
3. Time management conflict: Scholars simultaneously preparing for national exams (mid-June) and SAT – risk of burnout.

5 Actions Taken

- Recorded and uploaded all session recordings to Google Classroom (available offline).
- Provided mobile-data reimbursement guidelines for scholars with network hardship (via ELP coordinator).
- Introduced a shared weekly checklist on Trello to balance application prep and school exams.
- One-on-one phone follow-up for each absent scholar – documented reasons and agreed make-up plan.

6 Recommendations & Strategic Adjustments

- For ELP coordination: Consider hybrid offline resource packs (USB drives) for scholars in low-connectivity zones.
- Mentor action: Reduce synchronous session length to 90 minutes, replace with asynchronous micro-modules for SAT prep.
- Peer-led study groups: Pair scholars with similar diagnostic scores for weekly accountability calls.
- Wellness check-in: Integrate 10-minute mental wellness segment each Saturday.

7 Goals for Next Week (19–24 May 2026)

1. Achieve 100% attendance for at least 4 days via reminder SMS system.
2. Complete SAT Skill level 2 on Khan Academy for all scholars.
3. Submit first Personal Statement brainstorming worksheet to each mentee.
4. Conduct mock essay grading session with rubric alignment to Common App prompts.
5. Create scholar-wise “Application Timeline” (College Board account binding, financial aid document tracker).

8 Mentorship Reflections & 360-Degree Support Notes

Aligning with ECCP’s holistic approach (academic, social, mental guidance):

- Positive: The guest speaker session on “possibility” significantly boosted morale – scholars requested more alumni interactions.

- Social dynamic: WhatsApp group is active; scholars share SAT tips and encouragement – peer bonding is strong.
- Mental health: Two scholars expressed anxiety about rejection; referred to ELP psycho-social support line and scheduled weekly check-ins.
- Professional growth: My own facilitation skills improved by using interactive polls and break-out rooms.

9 Mentor Declaration & Compliance Statement

I hereby confirm that the information provided in this weekly report is accurate, truthful, and complies with the Equity College Counselling Mentor Guidelines 2026 (sections on confidentiality, professional boundaries, and scholar support). I understand that misrepresentation may lead to disciplinary action as outlined in the mentor contract.
